In thinking about this, you might want to bear in mind what I pointed out as glaring deficiencies in this area, where the occurrences were made, in 0 in 70.

On another subject, Howard has just discovered what I'd forgotten, that I'd asked for the identification of the Wasp fingerprint here about two years ago and never got an answer answer. Wish I could set up a tickler system to keep track.

Sorry about the cliffhanger, but this is from Uptonville.

Humbly,
